

My Keyboard Lessons

Julie Ronson talks about setting up with 'My Keyboard Lessons'

“I have wanted to teach keyboard for some time now and was not sure how or where to start running my own keyboard teaching business.

I was offered a lifeline from My Keyboard Lessons who gave me all the help, support, information and materials I required. These included posters, a website, business cards, a CRB check, lessons to teach and accounting software to start myself off with the minimum of financial outlay and fuss.

My Keyboard Lessons showed me how to set up a room in my home as a teaching studio and assisted with all of the health and safety aspects involved in doing so. They recommended the best way to register as a sole trader to make me a legitimate business with the tax office.

The guide that I received as part of the 'Gold' service was very in-depth in all aspects of becoming a teacher. It assisted in many areas including how to properly market myself and how to tell anyone who could be interested in keyboard lessons that I was now available to teach them. I soon began to obtain results.

I work from home doing a job I love, I'm my own boss, earning a good living, what more can I say! I should have done it much sooner but was unsure of what to do, and of course I could not have done it without the backing from My Keyboard Lessons”.

Julie Ronson.

My Keyboard Lessons Instructor.

Email; julieronson@mykeyboardlessons.co.uk